Who Am I? (Nan Yar?) of Ramana Maharshi

About the year 1902, Sivaprakasam Pillai put several questions to the Maharshi and, since the Sage was not speaking then, he answered in writing. These answers constitute the first set of instructions written by the Maharshi and remain the quintessence of all the teachings he gave thereafter.

Words of Grace

Nan Yar? (Who am I?) and Vichara Sangraham (Self-Enquiry) constitute the first set of instructions in the Maharshi's own words, written by him between 1900 and 1902. These two are the only prose compositions among Bhagavan's works. They clearly set forth the central teaching of Self-Enquiry as the direct path to liberation. Upadesa Manjari (Spiritual Instruction) is the reply to seventy questions put to the Maharshi by Natanananda. Words of Grace is a valuable English translation of these three works.
